Gain since August, 1890...... 1805 The strike long since proved itself an utter failure. The boyoott is a weak, maitclous, impotent device of a very fow selfish and irresponsible individuals. The Trimes defies it and them and continues to employ organized labor, paying thereto more in wages annually than any rival establishmeat. The business men of Los Angeles are counseled to pay no attention to allen carpetbaggers, professional anarchists and lawless enemies of their best interests.

How the English Party in Power May Head Off the Liberals.

Local Government for Ireland on the Conservative Programme.

Other Foreign News-Denial of the Alleged Marriage of Mrs. James Brown Potter and Actor Bellew.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, July 21.—|By Cable and Associated Press.| The intimation made by Baltour in the Commons yesterday to the effect that a local government bill for Ireland, based on the same lines as the English and Scotch acts will be introduced by the government at the next session of Parliament is founded on fact, and such a measure will certainly become a part of the government programme for the next ession. The discussion of the estimates in Parliament has been made the occasion for long reviews in the press in which the improved condition of Ireland, the fact that agra-rian crime has diminished and trade increased, that evictions have been lessened in number, that boycotting has almost ceased, that the plan of campaign is almost extinct and that migration has decreased, are considerably touched upon. During the past week five of the principal banking corporations of Ireland have held annual meetings and declared dividends of 10 per cent. The Standard, referring to this im-provement in the condition of Ireland, asserts that the discontinuance of subsidies received from the United States is largely responsible for the improve-ment. "Tenants," the Standard adds, "bribed by American dollars, will persist in their dishonest and unlawful sist in their dishonest and unlawful conspiracy, but left to face, unaided, the consequences of their criminal mistake, first in one place and then in another, they have found it necessary to surrender, while the humiliacing collapse of the plan of campaign has given warning as to the worth of the solemn pledges of agitators."

Gladstone has already stated that it is undeniable that the Conservatives in some respects have a great advantage in undertaking home rule legislation, for when the tories propose radical legislation the lords growl, but they bear it. In the meanwhile, the most remarkable feature is a curious reapproachment between Balfour and the Irish members. The Irish see that their arch-opponent is, after all, human, and that he has qualities of sincerity and courage not inferior to their cerity and courage not inferior to their own. The change has been on both sides, and Balfour has perhaps learned

NEW GRAIN ROUTE.

Arrival at Liverpool of a Steame Direct from Duluth. LONDON, July 21 .- [By Cable and Associated Press. | The new American steel steamer, Charles W. Wetmore, which sailed from Duluth, Minn., the latter part of June, arrived at Liver-pool today. The Wetmore is an inlandbuilt steamer, and her cargo, consisting of 95,000 bushels of grain, is the first grain cargo shipped from a lake port direct to Liverpooi without being rehandled. The route was down the lakes from Duluth, through the Wel-land Canal, down the St. Lawrence River and across the Atlantic. The success of the voyage is evidence that the proposition to establish direct communication between European and other ports and Chicago is entirely feasible.

Tennessee Miners Defying the Authorities.

They Say They Will Commit No Violence Unless Attacked.

The Situation Apparently too Heavy for Gov. Buchanan.

The Miners Confident That No Further Attempt Will Be Made to Coerce Them by Militia.

By Telegraph to The Times. KNOXVILLE (Tenn.,) July 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The mine trouble is in statu quo, and the end no one can see. Five hundred militiamen have arrived and are now in camp. Brig.-Gen. Carnes says that he is simply awaiting orders from

Gov. Buchanan. The Constitution and laws of Tennessee are peculiar and anomalous. The Governor of the State is in doubt whether he can order out the military legally, and it is sure he cannot pro-claim martial law throughout the mining region. To endeavor to proceed against the miners civilly would be folly, as the sympathy of all classes is with the miners, and a conviction would be almost impossible. It is rumored Gov. Buchanan's life would not be safe in Briceville. A special from Oliver Springs, near Briceville, says that 1000 miners reached there this afternoon and will send the convicts, 300 in number, to Knoxville or Chattanooga this afternoon.

At Coal Creek since Sunday night until this morning the telegraph wires were in the hands of the miners. Nothing was sent out except such as they have allowed operators to send.

RESOLUTIONS AGAINST VIOLENCE. NASHVILLE, (Tenn.,) July 21 .- A special from Coal Creek, Tenn., to the American says that a meeting of miners was held this afternoon. When the men first assembled there a few hot-heads, but they were quickly suppressed. There were speeches by a number of leaders, all of a conservaa number of leaders, all of a conserva-tive tone and advising against any vio-lation of the laws. The men said they simply wanted the convicts sent away and nothing more or less. A resolu-was unanimously passed to appoint a committee of five to go to Knoxville, and Nashville if necessary, to confer with Gov. Buchanan and arbitrate the present difficulties. Commissioner Ford and Assistant Alleman were in-vited and asked to go with the comvited and asked to go with the comvited and asked to go with the committee.

A resolution was unanimously passed that each man pledge himself on his honor that not $1 worth of property would be destroyed, and the company's property should be guarded.

It was further determined that no one should offer violence to any one except in self defense. There is a sense of relief and quiet since the meeting. A telegram was received from the Kentucky side at Joyce today offering a large number of men in case help is needed. The reply was for the men to hold themselves in readiness in case they were called for. ness in case they were called for. Nearly every man present at the miners' meeting today had a shotgun or Winchester rifle besides revolvers.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OPINION. MEMPHIS, July 21 .- A special from Associated Press.] The following ad- Nashville says that Gov. Buchanan and Attorney-General Pickle have WHEREAS, The Chicago fair will be inquestion of the legality of the Gov-ernor's action in ordering the militia to Briceville after the Sheriff had left the scene. Pickle later this afternoon handed in a written opinion to the Governor in which it is understood he says the Governor's action is justified in Valparaiso. No security is af-forded to foreigners. Judges are removed unless they are friendly to Bal- and again asks assistance the militia will have to be recalled. IS THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY CO. Moving on the Works of the Cable Company-History of the Case -A Bright Light Thrown

The following report has come into the cossession of THE TIMES, and is printed for the sake of the great public interest at-lines were on the following streets: Day street, Kuhrts street, Aliso street, Main street, First street, Spring street, Ninth street, Olive street, Fifth street, Fourth street, Hill street, Sixth street, Twelfth street, Figueroa street and Washington street—a trackage of twenty mies.

This company executed a mortgage on its property and franchises for $1,500,000 with William Alvord and Thomas Brown as trustees for the bondholders. Mr. Alvord is president of the Bank of California, and was then, and until recently, president of the Pacific Relling Mill Company, Mr. Brown is cashler of the Bank of California, Of these bonds about $58,000 were sold to San Francisco investors, and as the interest was payable quarterly they brought a premium of about five per cent, and accrued interest. The Bank of California owns $100,000 of them. The San Francisco Savinga Union, Mr. Lovell White, president, has $100,000.

The Pacific Rolling Mill Company, Wm. Alvord president, entered into a contract with the Los Angeles Cable Railway Com-

The Facific Rolling Mill Company, Wm. Alvord president, entered into a contract with the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company for supplies or material to build certain portions of its lines for the sum of about $75,000. The contract was carried out and the Rollinx Mill Company made a handsome profit out of it.

In 1880 the Los Angeles Cable Railway was absorbed by, or sold to the Pacific Railway Company, a corporation organized under the laws of Illinois. This company continued the work of construction, and caused 5the issue of $464,000 more of the first mortrage bonds of the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company, making a total issue of $1,250,000, and leaving $250,000 unsold and in the hands of the company. These bonds are still unsold.

The Pacific Railway Company placed upon the property a second mortrage of $2,500,000 which they disposed of in the East, except $833,000, which was set aside to retire that amount of the first mortrage bonds of the Los Angeles Cable Company, it being the agreement that the successor corporation should not issue more of these bonds.

On January 20, 1891, the property of the Pacific Railway Company in this city was placed in the hands of a receiver, the company having been embarrassed for some time. J. F. Crank was appointed to the receivership.

A CONNECTING INCIDENT.
To 1886 a cable line was built from Spring

In 1886 a cable line was built from Spring street west on Second street to Belmont Avenue. The line was constructed in the interest of the large land-owners on the hills on the west side of the city. The investment was a total loss as an investment, and in the spring of 1890, the nominal owner, James Mclaughlin, left the city and went back East and abandoned the property. The tracks were taken up, and the franchise abandoned. The consequence of the abandonment of the line, was that persons who had purchased property on the hills refused to complete their payments, and residents began to abandon their property. The owners of the land, realizing that they must have convenient and quick transit, determined to build, in some way, another cable line. A new franchise was procured from the Council on August 7, 1890, which authorized the construction of a cable line from Yaruell street via First street, Lake Shore avenue, Second, Spring, Fourth and Third streets to Santa Fé avenue. The property-owners then entered into a contract with the Pacific Rolling Mill Company of San Francisco to construct the line. The contract with the Rolling Mill Company provided in substance that the Rolling Mill Company provided in substance that the kolling Mill Company was to have a majority of its stock and all of the bond issue, the interest on the bonds to be guaranteed by the promoters. The Rolling Mill Company began work under this contract, and shipped quite a lot of material here for the purpose. This bit of history will be an important link in the matters hereafter to be related.

Mr. R. H. Pratt is assistant general superinterest of the large land-owners on the hills on the west side of the city. The in-

The History of the Case.

In 1888 the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company began operations, having received a franchise authorizing it to build cable lines on the following streets in Los Angeles:

This company executed a mortgage on its property and franchises for $1,500,000 with William Alvord and Thomas Brown as trustees for the bondholders. THE SCHEME DEVELOPING. On the 12th of November, 1890, "The Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railway ompany," with its principal place of bustness at San Francisco, Cal., claims to have been organized in the Territory of Arizona. The laws of that Territory are very liberal, and corporations can be so organized that the stock can be issued free, and the stockolders exempt from any liability for debts of the corporation. The organizers had evidently overlooked the following provision contained in section 322 of the Civil Code of California:

"The liability of each stockholder of a corporation formed under the laws of any tother State or Territory of the United States, or of any foreign country, and doing business within this State, shall be the same as the liability of a stockholder of a corporation created under the Constitution and laws of this State."

tion created under the Constitution and laws of this State."

As this section of the code has since been sustained by the Supreme Court of California, the incorporators of the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Company have not been able to put their stockholders beyond the reach of liability for all the debts of the company under the laws of this State.

The officers and directors of this Arizona corporation, so-called, were: M. H. Sherman, president: R. H. Pratt, vice-president; F. V. McDonald, secretary and treasurer; A. W. Barrett. superintendent. Directors in addition to officers; William Christy, R. H. McDonald, J. M. C. Marble, Samuel Miller, D. S. Dorn, Perry Wildman and J. A. Muir,

On the next day, December 25, the promotors of the scheme embraced in the plans of the alleged Arizona corporation distributed their Christmas gifts of stock in the following manner. Of the $6,000,000 of stock nearly the whole has been divided up among the promoters of the scheme, as follows:

SECURING LINES.

On-September 29, 1890, Mr. Carr received his franchise, which covered the old Secondstreet line, and subsequently finished the work of securing the consent of the property-owners for a change from a cable to an electric line, and they finally succeeded in making the agreement that the subsidy of $50,000 that had been subscribed, payable on the completion of the cable road within a specified time, would hold good and be paid, should the road be operated by electricity.

"Los Angeles, June 5, 1801.

"Messrs. Welliam Alvard and Lwell. White, San Fancisco, Cal.—My Very Dear Sires: Under date of June 2 I have a communication from our mutual friend, Mr. L. B. Benchley, advising that he had a conference as to the affairs of the Pacific Cable Company here, and it had resulted in the succession from Mr. White that I communicate to you my views on the problem:

The most natural successor of the Cable Company is the new Electric Consolidated Company here, which is now rapidly developing the finest system on the continent. Whether it is better for this company to absorb it now, or later, is an open question. The large amount of street paving sure to be done here soon, at the expense to the Cable Company, will certainly affect its income, so as to give the probability of a cheaper purches tater on. Whilst this is true, were the new company in possession now, it would save some duplicating of lines by electrizing part of the borse lines of the old c mpany—an advantage to each, if their interests are to be common.

"Were it possible to make a quick sale of the property, I have no doubt that would be the most satisfactory solution to all, except the junior security holders.

"Unless courts are differently constructed here from what they are East, I take it that in the absence of a satisfactory adjustment with an important part of the second mortgage and other creditors, the litigation will be likely to prove a Jarndyce & Jarndyce affair, with no advantage to any but those interested in legal fees.

"The electrizing of the horse-carlines of the present Cable Company; the removal of the company, with the guarantees it ould give, would certainly greatly improve the security of the first mortgage bondholders."

"Understand there are $1,250,000 or the fornians, will be required to meet large as-sessments, all of which will be avoided if the suggestions contained herein are mate-rialized.

the suggestions contained herein are materialized.

"That my taking up the negotiation is at the request and desire of the principal holders of the Company's securities on this coast,

"It has been suggested that I come to San Francisco. Unless there are reasons that are very important, I would prefer not, as I am very much pressed for time with my various duties. It would lose me at least two or three days' time. I know of little that I could add to what I have 'already submitted, and I look on it that the most serious work is East, where negotiations should be taken up at once. If the electric people are to become interested, it is valuable to them to secure it [The cable road] now rather than later, when their system is m re nearly completed.

"The electric people, as far as I understand them, feel that they have a valuable property without regard to the cable, and are satisfied with the conditions as they now are, and the principal hape to secure their approval of such a procedure as is herein outlined, lies in the fact that the Cable Company's securities are held by those whom they deem frieuds, whom I am sure they would desire to go as far as could reasonably be asked to protect and save advantage of this fact. I am forced to this conclusion because the trustees of the Rolling Mill Company are men of average intelligence, and must have known how far their powers extended.

Fifth—The fact that all of the officers and directors of the People's Home Savings Bank were given such enormous blocks of stock, without payment therefor, explains itself. That there has been a general conspiracy, which needs the attention of the Bank Commissioners and the Attorney-General, seems plain.

Sixth—That the whole venture is a gamble on the part of the manipulators, and that in the end the trustees of the Pacific Rolling Mill Company and the People's Home Savings Bank will have to settle the iosses.

Seventh—It is unreasonable to believe that the Pacific Bank, or the National Bank of California, at Los Angeles, are advancing any of the money for the scheme, because the officers and attorneys of those concerns know all of the details of the history and operations of the Electric Company as promoters, and are holders of large blocks of its stock.

where there is so much dissatisfaction and dissension as is evidently present among the eastern creditors of the Pacific Cable Company, un animity is not to be expected on any plan of reorganization, yet this proposition is so liberal that it appears to me it ought to commend theself to a sufficient number of creditors to insure success.

"Any one going East ostensibly in the interest of the E-ectric Consilidated Company here, it appears to me, would be placed at a disadvantage.

"If you take kindly to the plan herein outlined, and there is any desire that I take up the negotiation with the eastern people, I would feel that it would be important that yourselves and all others at San Francisco interested should place the matter in its true light, strongly before the principal eastern creditors.

"The facts, as I understand them, are, that the first mortgage bondholders are in d.nger of serious loss by the further depretation that its sure to come to the Cable Company from very large paving and legal and other expenses, that will get under the bonds.

"Then, in addition, the paralleling its lines will cerme, unless there is an early amalgamation of its interests.

"That the shareholders, certainly the Californian, will be required to meet larke assessments, all of which will be avoided if the session of the paralleling its lines will be required to meet larke assessments, all of which will be avoided if the session of the contents o

In conclusion, the speaker called upon the jury, in any event, to see that the defendant was punished to some extent for his crime, and not turned loose upon the community with license to repeat the crime.

During his argument, Mr. Phibbs was again interrupted by Judge Carpenter for referring to the defendant as having "jumped" Dye's claim, the detendant's counsel arguing that there was no evidence to show that any claim had been "jumped," whereupon the Court instructed counsel to confine himself to the evidence.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
On reconvening for the afternoon session

On reconvening for the afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock. R. A. Ling, Esq., made the opening address to the jury on behalf of the defendant, and in a strong speech of sixty-five minutes duration, presented the case as it appeared from the defendant's point of view, succinctly and clearly.

He was followed at 2:35 o'clock by R. B. Carpenter, Esq., who had the floor until the hour of adjournment.

During Judge Carpenter's argument, which lasted one hour and thirty-five minutes, the courtroom was crowded to excess, even the hailway outside being aimost impassable, and he could not have desired a more appreciative audience.

After touching lightly upon the weak case presented by the prosecution, Judge Carpenter called the attention of the jury to the fact that, although Drs. Brainerd, Wernigk and Mathison had been present in the courtroom and heard the testimony for the defense, the Pastrict Attorney had not dared to put them on the stand to rebut the theory of the defendant's insanity, and the conclusion was that each of them told him that he could not help the prosecution after hearing the testimony. Ut the Court remarked that it was hard to draw the line as to how far counsel might go.

District Attorney McLachian replied warmly that he should insist upon holding the genieman strictly to the evidence, and said: "If you want to know why these physicians were here I'll tell you. I had them here to listen to the testimony of your client, buyou did not put him on the Stand."

Judge Carpenter resuming his argument, sarcastically expressed his regret that the defendant's counsel had not conducted their case to suit the District Attorney, who had ignominiously and utterly failed to make out any kind of a case against their client. He then touched upon the remarks of Mr. Phibbs about punishing Bradfield, and

The ARGUMENT BY COUNSEL

Speaches by Messrs. Phibbs, Ling and Carpenter—Mr. Shinn and District Attorney MoLach—Ian to Close Today.

Somewhat contrary to general expectation, the trial of the Bradfield marder case was brought to an abrupt conclusion yesterday morning, neither side having any further testimony to put in, when the case was resumed before Judge Smith and the jury at 10.35 o'clock.

After the usual preliminaries had been disposed of, Judge Carpenter announced that the defense had some twenty-eight or thirty more witnesses from Ventura county and this city who were ready to testify as to the character of the late Joe Dye as a dangerous and bloodthirsty man, but as the Court had already ruled that any further testimony on this point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course, put them on the stand, and was content to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course, put them on the stand, and was content to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course and addressed the Court as formation to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course, put them on the stand, and was content to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course, put them on the stand, and was content to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course, put them on the stand, and was content to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course, put them on the stand, and was content to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be merely cumulative, the defense would not, or course, put them on the stand, and was content to rest its case on the testimony in the point would be made to a standard the point would be made to a standard t

Mr. Steere, who has been one of the two opponents all along, was then heard. He is willing to join with any 200 people and build a wharf. Many who had signed the petition are secretly patting him on the back and exhorting him to stand firm. He would rather subscribe $1000 than bond other people's property. He is not in favor of building a wharf south of Front street or north of Ninety-nine Steps. He doubted if the bonds can be carried, and therefore the election will be an expense for nothing.

Mr. Vawter them moved that the ordinance be so amended as to fix the location of the proposed wharf between Front street and Railroad avenue. [Hearty applause.] Mr. Lewis and others addressed the meeting, covering substantially the same ground as already stated.

The board then adjourned the most notable meeting ever held in Santa Monica.

What is to be the outcome time only can disclose. There appears to be a greal deal of feeling, and it seems to grow more bitter from day to day. There is talk of an indignation meeting, but it is probable that the counsel of cooler heads will prevent it.

Those who favor the calling of the election declare their intention of keeping up the fight, and each succeeding Monday evening may for some time present a similar routine of last night—three yes, and two no; then a change of one vote to ho, and notice of reconsideration.

Mr. Allen smillingly said that he proposed to keep up the fight all summer, and Mr. Vawter proposes to bob up blandly with his change of vote and notice of reconsideration.

In the meantime the people are honing.

Beans will be under an average yield, owing to lack of fogs from July 1 to harvest. The corn crop will be a full acreage.

The yield of apricots from 145 acres in 1890 was 755 tons, which is considered a heavy crop.

well as better in quality than in 1890.

More attention was given to vegetable planting last winter than usual—potatoes cabbages, onlons and beans mostly. The yield is generally good but prices are lower than a year ago. Peanuts are looking well, but the acreage is less than in 1890 because of trouble with the red spider.

Orange and Los Angeles are the leading corn counties of California producing something like one-half the entire crop of the State. The outlook, both as to yield and price for this cereal, is good.

Such determination commands the admiration of the public, but the Humane Society should look after him. It's a positive duty that one owes to mankind to at least look cool these days; hence, the summer girl, with her fluttering draperies, to at least look cool these days; hence, the summer girl, with her fluttering draperies, lace parasol and broad-brimmed hat is the popular girl. There was one on the cable car the other day and she was a picturesque creature from the shining tips of her dainty Oxford ties to the crown of her leghorn hat. And that hat! It was simply stunning! Its only garniture was a cluster of ten lovely, full-blown roses, in all tints, from palest pink to deepest crimson. Two or three of them had escaped from the cluster and were caught in a careless wind-blown fashion that was very fetching on the brim, and half a dozen buds, just ready to burst into blossom, nodded over the roses. Then her dress! It was of the simplest style and make—a. pink and ecru zephyr gingham and she wore long ecru silk mitts. The air and geheral appearance of that girl were enough to capitivate the admiration of the veriest bachelor cynic. She understood the art of dressing to perfection, though the whole outht probably did not cost $10.

Right beside her sat another young lady. Her sateen gown was of precisely the same shade to make her colorless complexion duller if possible, and the heavy plush which trimmed it made it look warm and uncomfortable. She wore a linen collar and her sailor hat was several sizes too small for her large, round face. She wore kid gloves, too, of the 9-cent varjety, and everyone who looked that way involuntarily waved his fan as if a hot wind had blown over him.

THE NAVAL RECENTION.

It is a fixed matter now that the U.S.S. Charleston will arrive at Redondo, probably today, and preparations are going rapidly forward for the festivities to be given in honor of the officers of the man-of-war. Uapt. George Ainsworth will tender a reception to them and Gen. McCook and staff at Hotel Redondo Thursday evening. A limited number of invitations will be extended to outsiders, necessarily very limited, for the reason that, with the two hundred or more guests of the hotel and the representatives of the army and navy there will not be much room for anyone eise. The invitations are handsomely gotten up souvenirs—engraved on heavy cardboard, each one embellished with a photogravure of the Charleston. No pains will be spared to make this reception a most brilliant atfair.

A MUSICALE.

A MUSICALE.

Miss E. S. Goodwin very pleasantly entertained a party of young people last evening at her rooms on West Second street. The principal feature of the evening was the music, both instrumental and vocal, which was participated in by the guests. Choruses, solos and duets were rendered in an exceptionally pleasing manner. Refreshments were served and the evening was one of great social enjoyment to all present, among whom were Misses Gertrude Finney, Edith Oldridge, Leighton, Hammond, Freeman; Messrs, Wnittier, Noble, Greenewald, Prof. Lunt of Taooma and others. PARLOR CONCERT.

Some pretty souvenir tickets, parchment slips with dainty pen and ink lettering, slips with dainty pen and ink lettering, have found their way into many hands this week, announcing a parior concert to be given by the Plymouth Union of Plymouth Congregational Church, at Hotel Ammidon, on Grand avenue, this evening. There will be a pleasing programme and afterward refreshments will be served from tete-a-tete tables spread on the porches which will be canvased in for the occasion. Everybody is expected to be present.

LONG BEACH.

PREPARATIONS FOR "RECOGNI-TION DAY" EXERCISES.

The Annual Meeting of the Assembly to Be Held Today-The Programme-Yesterday's Exercises.

Chautauquans attend lectures and classes for intellectual profit; they enjoy the music, and the majority participate with zeal in the devotional exercises. All this tends to draw them to the summer assemblies, but in the whole programme, there is one day to which they look forward, and for which they plan with greater interest than any other, because it means more and represents more than any other. For four years they have studied in this "popular university."

Daily the mother has spared from her labors forty minutes, the father, perhaps, has joined her in this enno-bling work, the self-sacrificing sister and the older brother, unable to enjoy the privileges of a college, have worked out their determination to be something better than they were-they have succeeded, and today their success is to be recognized, so this July 22 is known as "Recognition day."

It was a busy scene about the tabernacle yesterday as preparations were being made for today's festivities.

The devotional hour will be kept as usual, yesterday as preparations were being made for today's festivities.

The devotional hour will be kept as usual, and the classes will be found in their accustomed places, but even these will have caught the spirit of the day. The park has been carefully mowed, the trees and shrubs have been brought to symmetry beneath the pruner's knife, and at 10 o'clock there will be held here an open-air concent led by Prof. G. M. Cole. At its close the procession will form and march to the tabernacle, where the graduating exercises are to be held.

President S. H. Weller is known for his bright and thoughtful "talks," and to him falls the honor of presenting the class.

Supt. A. C. Hirst cannot be present, so the diplomas will be conferred by Dr. Henson. The Chicago divine has told the Chautauquans what he thinks of "Fools" and of "Money." They will now hear what he thinks of them.

Prof. Cole is hard at work, and with the aid of the Oaklies, promises some fine music for this occasion.

At 1:30 the programme says "Business Session." As a prominent officer said yesterday, "Those words may mean very little, then again they may mean the occasion of fixing the future location and endowment of the assembly. Things are lively at present. We cannot tell."

There will be a class of some twenty-five this year, and at 4 o'clock they are to be banqueted at the stabernacle. There is promised a feast of good things, relished by toasts and music.

In the evening the "Uniques," or "Oaklies," give a musical prelude, followed by the lecture, "Grumblers," by Dr. Henson, "the funny man from Chicago."

The whole day promises to be fall of interest for all friends of the C. L. S. C.

YESTERDAY'S EXERCISES.

The classes met as usual yesterday.

Dr. Weller's history contest class was the only novel feature. There are some dozen the distinction of being a little out of the general line of either travels or lectures. He knows how to combine conversation with illustration.

EVENING SESSION. For a prelude Prof. Wallenburg played a solo on the piano, and Prof. Ludlam gave one of his favorite recitations, which was received with great favor. This was a description of the terror and astonishment of southern negroes on seeing the first steamboat on the Mississippi. He was encored and gave a humorous account of his and his wife's troubles with a mouse.

The tabernacle, in honor of Recognition day, was beautified by bunting, flowers and evergreens by Mrs. W. W. Lowe, and the following gentlemen as aids: Clinton Ellwood, Theodore Hilbish, Will Graves, Walter Williams and M. McMartin.

Rev. M. W. Hamma, D. D., of New York city, then gave his illustrated lecture on "Scandinavia. the Land of the Midnight Sun," being the first of two lectures he solo on the piano, and Prof. Ludlam gave Sun," being the first of two lectures h will deliver, this one being devoted exclu-sively to southwestern Norway.

CONSIDERABLE speculation is be ginning to crop up as to the national tickets for 1892. John M. They have been Biaine men since 1876, and no measure planned by the Alliance leaders could draw them away from Biaine. In nearly every State a maj rity would leave the alliance if their membership prevented them from supporting Biaine. That's how the farmers stand, and with this help from the alliance it will be utterly impossible to defeat the statesman from Maine.

THE GROWTH OF LEGISLATIVE

EXTERED AT LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER

In San Francisco today a man appears in the courts of justice with a written complaint, asking redress for grievance and recites his grievance to be employment by a combination of twenty-four State Senators, who combined for the purpose of blackmailing the people who had elected them to the responsible position of legislators. The commercial and industrial interests of the State were to be boodleized. and the man who now appears in court says that he was to be the instrument of this work. There is every reason to believe that his allegations are true. Commenting upon this incident a well-known citizen of California—a prominent Republican and publicistwrites in a private letter to the editor of THE TIMES as follows. His utterances are pregnant with facts of sad import to the State and to this generation, for it is not to be supposed that California in this respect is much if any worse than the average commonwealth of the Union: the Union:

Some twenty years ago on the afternoon of the last day of a session of the Legislature I was standing in the lobby of the Assembly beside a well-known lobbyist, one who has been the instrument of as much, or more, corruption than any man living or dead. I was a journalist, young in the profession, full of curiosity to know the inside of things, and had courted and cultivated this gentleman with reference to the inside fession, full of curiosity to know the inside of things, and had courted and cultivated this gentleman with reference to the inside view his conversation in ceafidential moments afforded. He turned to me and said: "There is a great deal charged against the members of the Legislature, and much complaint of bribery and corruption. Now how many men do you think there are on the floor of this Assembly who can be bribed to vote for or against a measure, with money?" I ventured the guess of twenty. He laughingly replied: "Now I will give you the exact truth. There are just five men whom a discreet man and one whom they be done in could approach with offers of money. There are perhaps ten more whose votes are influenced with a consideration of indirect benefit. There are perhaps ten or fifteen more who are thoughtful and provident in the matter of casting their votes in such a way as to promote themselves politically, or to secure for their sons or relatives public office or advantageous employment by corporations." "Well, these are all venal motives," I repiled. "Now how many men are there on the floor of this Assembly who are governed and controlled relatives public office or advantageous employment by corporations." "Well, these are all venal motives," I replied. "Now how many men are there on the floor of this Assembly who are governed and controlled by consideration for the public welfare?" He answered with great earnestness, sincerity and candor that at least fifty and perhaps sixty of the eighty were endeavoring to discharge a public trust with fidelity. I have been more or less associated with that gentleman all the years since that conversation. I see now, tooking back, that what he told me he believed to be true. I see better now what it was impossible for me at that time to perceive, what his opportunities for knowledge were and what facts and materials for the formation of opinions and conclusions he was in possession of. The significance of this is that during the last Legislature I met the same during the last Legislature I met the same gentleman under analogous circumstances, I reminded him of our former conversation, and though at first he did not recall it, he subsequently did with great distinctness emembering the Legislature and the lead ng issues before that particular session. I aid to him, "How many men are there on said to him, "How many men are there on the floor of this Assembly who-could not be bribed with money?" He reptied with perfect sincerity, "Not ten." I put the question in various forms. "Are there lifty members of this Assembly who would vote for a bad measure from motives of pecuniary ad-vantage, knowing the measure to be bad?" I asked, and he answerd: "Yes, more than fifty."

l asked, and he answerd: "Yes, more than fifty."

Te every form of question the answer went to the mouraful conclusion that private gain possessed a perfect ascendency over considerations of public good. I asked the same question as to the Senate, and the same question as to the Senate, and the same reply was elicited. I could scarcely believe the awful disclosures to which that conversation gave birth. I mentioned individuals in their defense, claiming for them exemption from the general charge. I was given facts, with place and personal detail, sufficient to convince me that my charitable riews were mist.ken.

In twenty years, then, the corrupting intended the converted the very framework of society with a necrosis of death. I see in the converted that a Government appropriation of hundreds of thousands are considered to the converted to the interest had afflicted the very framework of society with a necrosis of death. I see in this no impeachment of Republican institutions. I see in it only the symptoms of a disease, which by the law of its own periodicity, has to run its own course; but I see also the manifestation of great vitality in the patient and strong symptoms of healthy reaction.

The point of all this is that every time men notoriously bad have been nominated for office, they shielded themselves behind party fealty or local patriotism. A scoundrel known to be such is nominated for the Senate, and jokingly his merit has been proclaimed as "our scoundrel."

The boodle business in California has resembled in its method the action of the convicts at San Quentin in 1862, when they captured the warden of the prison and placing him before them used him as a shield against the shots of the guards. They could kill the mutineers only by taking the life of their commander. So corruption, dishonestly, peculation, self seekuption, dishonesty, peculation, self seeking in office, have forever sought refuge ing in office, have forever sought refuge behind the local patriotic instinct or respected partisan featty. Upon the occasion to which I have referred the warden for dered the men sternly to fire on the crowd.

"Don't mind me" said he, "Shoot down every man who attempts to escape."
Well, I heard that instance mentioned by men with great admiration as one illustrating a high sense of self-sacrifice and devotion to the right. For myself, I have listened for the last time to the appeal that California wants an office, and that therefore some unworthy individual must have it or California will lose it. I have listened for the last time to the plea that the party will score a defeat unless the bad man nominated by it is given the benefit of party feality. Neither of these motives shall any longer influence my action until a better and more normal state of public honesty shall make it for less dangerous to yield to these hierotich. tate of public honesty shall make it for ess dangerous to yield to these blandish-

What our correspondent says about the abuse of party fealty is especially noteworthy. This is the secret of much of the legislative corruption with which we are cursed. If voters would resolutely retuse to be cajoled or bullied into supporting a bad man for office because he happens to be on their ticket-and this line of action could be made consistent with the truest and highest party fealty-there would be a way out of the difficulty except where undesirable men are nominated on both tickets, in which case there would be sufficient cause for an independent nomination. The remedy for legislative corruption is with the people themselves. A site after the buildings have been stream cannot rise higher than its erected. The traveling and other ex source. As long as a majority of the penses of the visitors will be provided people appear to take it for granted from Chicago. It is suggested that that their representatives will be corrupt, and even joke about their "feath-Then Mr. Thurston goes on to prophering their nests," how long can it be extend their trip to California, and easy that the next convention will be a expected that the legislators will miss thus aid the schemes to advertise in ar Blaine mass-meeting." We an opportunity of acquiring wealth by Europe the advantages of settling in self—as it always does? They may great, and could readily be provided well argue that since they are to bear the suspicion of having been bribed they may as well reap the substantial benefits.

As we have frequently remarked, al together too little importance is attached to nominations for offices of a egislative character-State, county and city. A great hubbub is made over a nomination which is little more than a clerical office, such as recorder or treasurer or county clerk, while the selection of men to make laws for this great State and expend millions of the itizens' hard-earned money is left to the tail end of a meeting when most of the delegates are tired out, and then the legislative offices are often given as sort of consolation prize to hose who have not been thought worthy to keep books for the countymen who perhaps have been a failure in everything they have tried-callow youths in some instances whose friends don't know what to do with them.

What a farce!

Nominations for senators and assemblymen, for supervisors and councilmen, should come first in all conventions, and only men should be chosen who are known to be honest and responsible. Then we shall hear less of legislative corruption.

It is to be hoped that one or two little efforts at landscape gardening in this city may not absorb all our park.

Controlling the use of the water known as the "Old Settlement water right" in the convention and possible of $5994, of which amount $5184 has been actually subscribed. this city may not absorb all our park energy, or divert public attention from the necessity of establishing a real and convenient public park for the city.

The Seventh-street lake and its border might well be connected with a park, but to call it a park, is a flagrant misnomer. The park part or it is scarcely more than the shore of a small lake. As such it is beautiful, and, for what it is, may be considered creditable, but it lacks nearly every element of a park.

It needs not that a park shall be described; everybody who has visited a city of any considerable size, has a city of any considerable size, has seen a park, and knows what a park is, and that it is something very different from the Sixth-street Park, or Westlake Park, or any other little specimen of landscape gardening. The Elysian Park, in extent and copography comes nearer the idea of a public park, but the Elysian Park is in an out-of-the-way locality, in fact, it is a piece of waste land, left over after everybody and his cousin had helped themselves to the city's patrimony. To make that piece ground what a park should would cost more than to a suitable location for one. A park for the city would not need much expenditure of money upon it beyond the cost of the ground for a long time. Laying it out, planting trees and making a few roads would be all required for the present. Immediately north of Westlake is a large space of suitable ground, now almost unoccupied and unimproved. It it cannot be purchased at a low rate it can be condemned for park purposes. It is a location very favorable, if not without exception the most favorable, for that purpose. There are doubtless other localities which can now be obtained at small cost, but which, by-and-bye, will be, on account of cost, out of reach of the city. It will be a great mistake to neglect this business too long. A good park in this city of resort for health and recreagoes into Lower California, and is of highest compliment by far that ortho-such dimensions on the frontier of doxy ever paid to Unitarianism the priation of hundreds of thousands to the Ecumenical Coupell of Congre would be necessary to accomplish any results. That would require an act of Congress, and it is needless to say, would not be done. The dispatch from Washington that the courts would be the necessary resort by citizens to prohibit the railroad, shows that there is not a proper understanding of the situation. On the Govern ment lands the Southern Pacific could do no work except by consent of the department, It is supposed at Washington to be a temporary inundation of small consequence, if a railroad can undertake to control it. But if the Southern Pacific undertakes to invade Mexican territory, and make canals in the Colorado River bed, or dam up its outflows, there will be a picnic. Diaz would have his troops on hand in short order, and give the whole party a pleasant trip to some convenient they were violating Mexican rights.

locality to explain by what authority THE very latest modern improvement to be introduced in an American city is to supply cold air through conquits, a company in Kansas City having received a franchise for that purpose. The projectors of the scheme are confident of its success, and will sell fresh air to any part of the city and remove the impure atmosphere at a very low cost per cubic foot. The work of laying the mains will begin at once, and in all probability next summer the company will be ready to supply the fresh air in cool blasts. In the winter hot air will be sent through the pipes. From another source we learn that in Scotland the smoke is being taken from flues and condensed into oil, money being paid for the smoke. With an absence of smoke and a constant supply of fresh air our great cities will soon be as pleasant as the country.

Vary Compilmentary. SIERRA MADRE, July 21, 1891.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] For the gationalists, now in session in London. Tre Congregational clergy are proverbially and preeminently active, in-telligent, scholarly, devout, conscien-tious, and in the vanguard of the world's civilization. England and America are under great obligation to them, not only for their ability and efficiency as Christian ministers, but also for the signal aid they have ren-dered in directing the affairs of state. Therefore, when the Congregational-ists themselves, through their great council in London, acknowledge in so many words that "Unitarianism is making tremendous headway among them," they virtually coniess that there is much in Unitarianism per se that commends itself to the enlight-ened reason, the balanced judgment, the profound scholarship, the high moral sense and the refined spiritual consciousness of their clergy. This is entirely clear, and it is equally clear that it is the highest compliment that could possibly be paid to Unitarians. But when the great council in Lon-don assumed that a prohibitory resolu-tion would, still inquiry, reverse the trend of the world's thought and force back the light, when it forbade its ministers to exchange with Unitarian ministers, not only did it virtually confess that its clergy were unable to resist the "tremendous" fascination of the most contagious beresy of the age, and could not be trusted to do their own thinking, but it planted itself, on ground that was saturated with huground whatever the latter told him is hig legal duty he will do. own thinking, but it planted itselt on ground that was saturated with human gore, contemned the most glorious features of Congregational history and denied to its peers the right of private judgment, but for which there could not have been a Congregational Church; but, as did the Catholic Church at the trial of Galileo, it attempted to arrest intellectual progress and to roll the world back on its orbit.

Most cordially may the Unitarians of the world thank the great Congrelation of the world thank the most glow whatever the latter told him is nois legal duty he will do.

Church at the trial of Galileo, it attempted to arrest intellectual progress and to roll the world back on its orbit.

Most cordially may the Unitarians of the world thank the great Congregational Council assembled in London for its frank acknowledgment that Unitarianism makes a "tremendous" appeal to a very large number of its scholars and Christian philosophers, and that unrestrained by a prohibitory resolution, they might be carried away by the intrinsic beauty and persuasiveness of the docrine. We deeply regret, however, that at this late day it proposed to fence in the truth and to fence out error—an attempt in which we should suppose that people as well we should suppose that people as well informed as the Congregationalists would take warning by the disgraceful failures of the past. We regret that it boldly assumed that even the well-informed mind cannot be trusted to deal with religious truth for itself, and that the ocean can be swept back after all. After the Latter Had Fought Twenty Rounds with One Hand.

Efforts to Prevent the Hall-Fitzsim mons Fight Tonight.

Ellingsworth Knocked Out by the "Black Pearl" in Five Rounds at the Twin City Club.

By Telegraph to The Times.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.-|By the Associated Press.] The new Pacific Athletic Club opened tonight with a fight between Billy McCarthy and Alex Greggains for a purse of $1500. The referee awarded Greggains the fight at the close of the twenty-fifth round, as McCarthy's right arm was badly injured and for several rounds he fought with one hand. McCarthy nearly had Greggains knocked out twice, once in the fifth and once again in the twelfth, but he was not strong enough to finish his man.

In the sixth round Greggains fouled McCarty and when the latter turned to the referee Greggains came up behind and knocked McCarthy down. The latter was in great distress and be came sick at the stomach. The ref latter was in great distress and became sick at the stomach. The referee refused to allow a foul, and after an examination of McCarthy by a doctor, ordered the fight to continue. Greggains was much taller than McCarthy but his blows seemed to lack strength and he could not knock McCarthy out, even when the latter had but one hand. Greggain's face was badly cut and he bled freely, while McCarthy with the exception of the injury to his arm was apparently unhurt. The contest was a good one as hurt. The contest was a good one as the men kept at each other all the time and there was but little sparring.

CHICAGO, July 21.—|By the Associated Press.] The opinion is becoming general that there are to be important developments in the fight against the Chicago and Alton road Although Chairman Finley denies that his course has been prompted by any other influence than his own judgment It is argued by knowing ones that his action has been directly in line with a plan to force the Alton into the Western Traffic Association. It is understood that the present idea is to extend the boycott to include freight as well as passenger traffic, the purpose seeming to be to close all outlets of the Alton east and west and bottle it up, so that it will be unable to do any-thing but local business. The weak point in the plan is that it would snot deprive the Alton of its power to do mischief, for by a wholesale slashing of rates it would prevent other roads from deriving any benefit from the heavy increase in tonnage expected to mark the remaining months of the LEXINGTON, (Va.,) July 21.—[By the Associated Press.] This is the thirtieth anniversary of the first battle of Manassas, and Lexington, the quiet agricultural village, in which was spent the lifetime of Stonewall Jackson, the most picturesque figure of the Southern Confederacy, is brilliant with life and color. while 10,000 strangers are assembled within its environs to participate in the exercises incident to the unveiling of the monument symbolic of the esteem and veneration felt for the great soldier. The weather is superb, a fresh, cool breeze tempering the rays of the sun. Streets and buildings are appropriately decorated, and three beautiful arches extend over Main street. SENATOR SHERMAN.

A Little Speech in the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce. CINCINNATI, July 21.—[By the As-sociated Press.] This afternoon, after the close of the 'change hours, Senater Sherman was escorted into the Chamber of Commerce. He was greeted with loud applause, and a speech was called for.

The Senator said that all the issues of the day are business issues. "I'm not going to talk politics," he said, "but there are issues that appeal to the business man, whether he be Democrat or Republican. The mode of levying taxes will always cause difference of opinion, and parties will always divide upon the question of how shall money be raised to support the Government and so the mode of levying taxes interests you all. Now, the Government and so the mode of levying taxes interests you all. Now, the question is, is the way we have done it a wise one? Take the question of the development and protection of sugar. We are experimenting with the production of sugar by means of beets as well as cane. There is the question of tin. We hear a good deal about tin horns and the like. We consume about 600,000 tons of tin. Now the tin of commerce is about 95 per cent. iron and the question is to produce our own tin and we are experimenting to that end. There is the question of reciprocity with nations by special arrangements by which we can get articles in free which we do not produce ourselves by reciprocating with other nations on something which they cannot produce. There is also the question of the silver issue which touches the pocket of all business men."

healer of sickness and all diseases.

For many years I have been troubled with lung disease, which finally ended in asthma and consumption.

I consulted with the best physicians I could find but they did me no benefit, but on the contrary I got worse and worse, until I was told by one of them I could not recover.

Dr. Woh took me in this condition. He has in two months' time entir-ly cured me. I most cordially recommend him to all sufferers.

The mode of determining the same shall be left entirely to the discretion of the committee and their decision shall be final. If the committee decides that the Devil's Gate development is the cause of the diminished supply at the sheep corral springs owned by the west-side Company, shall grant to it such an amount of the waters developed "as will be in the opinion of said committee an adequate compensation," together with an additional proportionate interest in the main pipe line leading from Devil's Gate. There were other speakers, and the motion was finally made to adopt the committee's report, it being understood that such action be not final. A vote being called for, twelve directors voted in the affirmative, and one, Mr. Brown, in the agative.

The boards of directors of the two companies will meet at an early date, when it is probable that it will be decided to proceed with the work under the conditions of the contract prepared by the committee.

General Manager Wade's Mission -Capt. Cross Wants to Build Another Road - General and Local Mention.

Another Road - General and proceeded to knock the built out in the most approved style.

General Manager K. fl. Wade of the Southern California lines, Santa Fé system, yesterday started for Chicago, the administrative headquarters of the company. In the absence of official information on the subject, some pretty close guesses can be made as to the nature of the business calling Mr. Wade to Chicago at this season. It is more than probable that the railroad official who so shrewdly manages the great company's interests in this section is accompanied on this trip by an amount of interesting information for President Mantvel and others regarding the situation in Southern California. It is more than probable that the maps, data and propositions which Mr. Wade will carry to Chicago repetit the maps, data and propositions which Mr. Wade will carry to Chicago repetit the maps of the propositions which Mr. Wade will carry to Chicago repetit the maps of the maps of the backbone, and I am afraid they have killed him."

By this time John had gathered nimself, backbone and all, up, and was hobbling down Temple street.

Southern California. It is more than probable that the maps, data and propositions which Mr. Wade will carry to Chicago represent enterprises which will be of exceeding importance to this region, if the eastern magnates of the Santa-Fé system can be induced to undertake the construction of more new mileage. Engineers have not been staking out so many lines for nothing, and confidential agents have not wasted time in feeling a way for aggressive campaigning by the big company. No one here can say with authority how long the general manager will be absent from this city, but it is safe to assume that his visit to Chicago will be fruitful of result.

THE SANTA FE IN SAN BERDOON. The Santa Fé has won a victory at San San Bernardino, the City Council last night San Bernardino, the City Council last night passing, by a vote of 5 to 3, an ordinance granting a franchise pegmitting the Southern California Company to lay tracks on D street to Third, which will enable trains to reach the business center of the place. The Santa Fé people some time ago asked for this franchise, which would give their trains as good terminal facilities for the Rediands branch as are possessed by the motor road, a rival in the same territory. The motor people vigorously fought the measure, and were reinforced by the Southern Pacific, when the little road was sold to the big company. It was a long fight and a momentous one for the Southern California Company.

CAPT. CROSS'S NEW ROAD. CAPT. CROSS'S NEW ROAD.

The Cross Bros. of Los Angeles paid a visit to the Ojal Valley last week, making observations with a view of building a railroad from Ventura to Nordhoff. The road would be fifteen miles in length, for ten miles along the Ventura River, then following the San Antonio Creek into the Ojal Valley. Capt. Cross agrees to build, equip and operate the road provided the citizens secure the right-of-way and grant a subsidy of $75,000.

TIMES June 24 last, entitled "Falling Into Line."

There are no bills pending in the Legislatures of Minnesota, Illinois and New York requiring baking powders containing ammonia to show that fact upon their labels. Legislatures are not apt to waste their time in enacting such laws. Why should they? There is ammonia in air, water, bread, and almost everything that weeat. Are they all to be laceled? Ammonia is never used in baking powder, but carbonate of ammonia is as natural to a high-class baking powder as salt is to bread, and it is put there because it makes a better baking powder, and better bread can be made with such baking powder. Such eminent hygienists as Prof. Chandler of New York, Prof. Mallet of Virginia and Prof. Haines of Chicago are emphatic advocates for its use, and show that it makes a better and more wholesome powder.

Some of the legislatures in question have—and very wisely, for it is the best—tried to pass laws making the "Royai" the standard for all baking powders. Of course the makers of the low-grade baking powders objected to this, for it would compel them to improve the quality and add to the cost of their goods.

How a Chinaman Got Away with a Buildog. Rather an amusing scene occurred on New High street yesterday afternoon. Five or six young men, ranging from 16 to 20 years of age, were standing on the corner talking, when a Chinaman came along and passed close by the boys. One of them, who owns a bulldog, set the animal on the heathen. John was evidently pre-pared for such an emergency, for he drew a short club from under his spacious blouse and proceeded to knock the bull out in the most approved style.

Falling From the Truth.

It is claimed that there were some misstatements in the article published by the Cleveland Baking Powder Company in The Times June 24 last, entitled "Falling Into Line."

There are no bills pending in the Legislatures of Minnesots, Illinois and New York requiring baking powders containing ammonia to show that fact upon their labels.

Legislatures are not apt to waste their time in enacting—such—laws. Why—should they? There is ammonia in air, water, bread, and almost everything that wee at. Are they all to be loseled? Ammonia is never used in baking powder, but carbonate of ammonia is as natural to a high-class baking powder as salt is to bread, and it is put there because it makes a better baking powder, and better bread, can be made with such baking powder. Such eminent hygienists as Prof. Chandler of New York, Prof. Mailet of Virginia and Prof. Haines of Chicago are emphatic advocates for its use, and show that it makes a better and more wholesome powder.

Some of the legislatures in question have—and very wisely, for it is the best—tried to pass laws making the "Koya"

An officer was sent up at once, and Lathrop was found after quite a chase. On his way up to the city, Lathrop made a singular proposition to the officer.
